Baseball Leaders In Session Tonight

Settlement of all major baseball difficulties in Twin Falls for the 1942 season looms tonight when directors of the Twin Falls Cowboy Baseball company, fans, boosters and business men gather in a special session.

The meeting was called by Business Manager Carl Anderson and will get underway at 7:30 p. m. in the Park hotel and will be strictly an all-business session.

Meanwhile, work of selling preferred stock in the Cowboy setup continued—but not as fast as Committee Chairman Bill McRoberts hoped it would.

Some of the fellows who promised faithfully to get out and hustle—states McRoberts, "haven't moved an inch. If our task is to be completed by nightfall, then these men will have to get moving on it. To date they've fallen down on the job."

The goal of the committee is to have $2,000 pledged to keep baseball in Twin Falls this coming year by the time the meeting opens tonight. As a result, the board has a committee of 13 was named to push the sales and enthusiasm at this season pointed to a new year of rounding up the necessary funds.

Things were quiet here over the week-end at Anderson and other leaders studied Tony Robello's terms on a proposition to handle the Writers for the coming year.

While the price asked by Tony to make the team was believed to be too high to warrant consideration, it was thought that if he would include the business end of the work as a condition of his contract.

Another baseball man who probably be at the session tonight is George H. Wood, veteran catcher who is here—looking after for a manager or playing post.
